

MEYER COMMITTEE SUMMONS SINNOTT IN CITY INQUIRY

Mayor's Secretary Ordered to Produce Personal Bank Book
—Woods Aids Investigation.

John F. Sinnott, secretary to Mayor Hylan, also his son-in-law, has been served with a subpoena by the Meyer Legislative Committee demanding that he report to the committee this afternoon at 2:30 with his personal bank book, cancelled checks, deposit slips and check stubs and any other information he may be able to furnish in connection with his personal bank account. The bank account which the Meyer committee seeks to examine is from Jan. 1, 1918, to date. This covers the Hylan Administration, during which time Sinnott has served as the Mayor's secretary.

Lieut. Col. Arthur Woods, former Police Commissioner, is assisting the committee in its investigation of police matters, according to reports. The former police official has been in consultation with Senator Meyer and others associated in the investigation concerning the funds collected from police games, particularly the 1918 affair. The games in 1918 are apparently the only ones which so far have received close scrutiny from the investigators, although it is understood that their plans are to look into others as well.

According to information, Frederick A. Wallis, former Deputy Police Commissioner, has been questioned regarding the 1918 games. Those connected with the committee refused to divulge the nature of his testimony, but it is believed that Mr. Wallis will be called in open sessions when they begin next week. Police Commissioner Enright may be called to tell what he knows about the police games and department matters.

What has become of the money and the records of the collections made from the police games where they were purchased in 1,000 lots is said to be one of the things the committee desires to know. Every police captain who had anything to do with the distribution of the tickets has been questioned by the committee. None so far has been able to place responsibility for any missing records. The committee says the records have been destroyed. The committee wants to know who destroyed them and why. Gov. Miller, who comes to the city to-day, is expected to confer with Chairman Meyer and Elton R. Brown, chief counsel to the committee. Mr. Miller probably will be asked to convene a special session of the Court of Appeals to pass upon the Appellate Division's determination that sub-committees of the committee cannot question witnesses in private, prior to public hearings before the full committee.

Acting on the tip of a disgruntled crew member aboard the Henry B. Mallory, which docked yesterday at Pier 14, East River, with a cargo from Cuba, Customs Inspectors John Sterling and Tim Lane began a search for whiskey in the ballast room, which is next to the fire room. They were digging into the sand when the temperature began to climb toward the 120 degree mark. Steam soaked their clothing. They were nearly overcome. Investigation revealed that a fireman had fed the ship's fire anew and was trying to steam the Government men out. But it was too late, for the inspectors confiscated 118 bottles of choice whiskey.

On the Lake Fackler, also from Cuba, the inspectors seized twenty bottles of whiskey and thirty bottles of cigarettes, worth several thousand dollars.

Cows and Calves and Bulls and Grass

YOU get milk by sending a pail to the store, or by taking a bottle off the doorstep, or by ordering a glass in a restaurant.

But that milk doesn't grow in the pail or the bottle. It comes from a cow in the country.

The farm must not be too far away. Milk cannot be shipped more than a few hundred miles or it will spoil.

It must be shipped soon after it comes from the cow. You can't regulate how much milk the cow will give. When the feed is plentiful, the cow is likely to be very generous. At other times the cow gives less milk.

About all the farmer can do is to take what the cow gives him and haul it to the milk station to be sent to the city.

To raise a calf to a full-grown cow costs money. Every cow today on the farms throughout New York State is a milk factory that represents a pretty big investment.

The cow is a kind of factory, but not the kind you can run overtime or shut down or put on extra shifts.

Sometimes milk is plentiful, the demand is not large, and the price of milk goes down. Other times milk is scarce, people want as much or more than ever, and the price goes up.

That's why milk isn't always the same price. So much depends on cows that don't reason and on nature that can't be reasoned with. All the same, milk at any reasonable price is the most necessary and the most nourishing food in the world.

Miss Watkins at the office has a clever idea

Boott Toweling in full 18-inch width in 25 or 10 yard bolts.

SHE keeps a towel made of Boott Toweling at the office. When it is soiled she washes it out right there in the office. It dries overnight, and is ready for use the next day. The material has a heavy weave—it is very absorbent. It does not require ironing, though it looks like new when it is ironed.

Buy it by the bolt from your dealer. If he cannot supply you, write us.
